News: Situation Report #3 On Winter Weather

Date: January 7, 2010

Situation - The Wisconsin State Emergency Operations Center (SEOC) will downgrade to 'Level 4' status at 2100 today. In Level 4, the Wisconsin Emergency Management (WEM) Duty Officer and Senior Duty Officer monitor conditions and act as the first point of contact for WEM.

Weather Briefing - The winter storm continues to unfold as predicted by the National Weather Service. Snowfall is beginning to slow and winds from the north and northwest have picked up. Some lake effect snow showers continue to move across southeast Wisconsin. Conditions appear to be well within the capabilities of local the county snow removal crews and emergency responders. WEM has received no requests for State support.

DOT Highways - Nothing to report.

State Patrol - Nothing to report.

Other agencies represented in the SEOC reported nothing significant to report at this time.
