Federal disaster aid denied for Waukesha County

(MADISON) - Wisconsin Emergency Management was notified that Waukesha County was denied federal disaster assistance for flooding in July.

Governor Doyle had requested disaster aid for individuals and businesses in Waukesha, Milwaukee and Grant Counties during an appeal process earlier this month. On Saturday, the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) approved the appeal for Milwaukee and Grant counties.

In the denial letter, FEMA cited that the damage in Waukesha County was not of sufficient impact to warrant being included in the federal disaster declaration.
